THREE CENTS

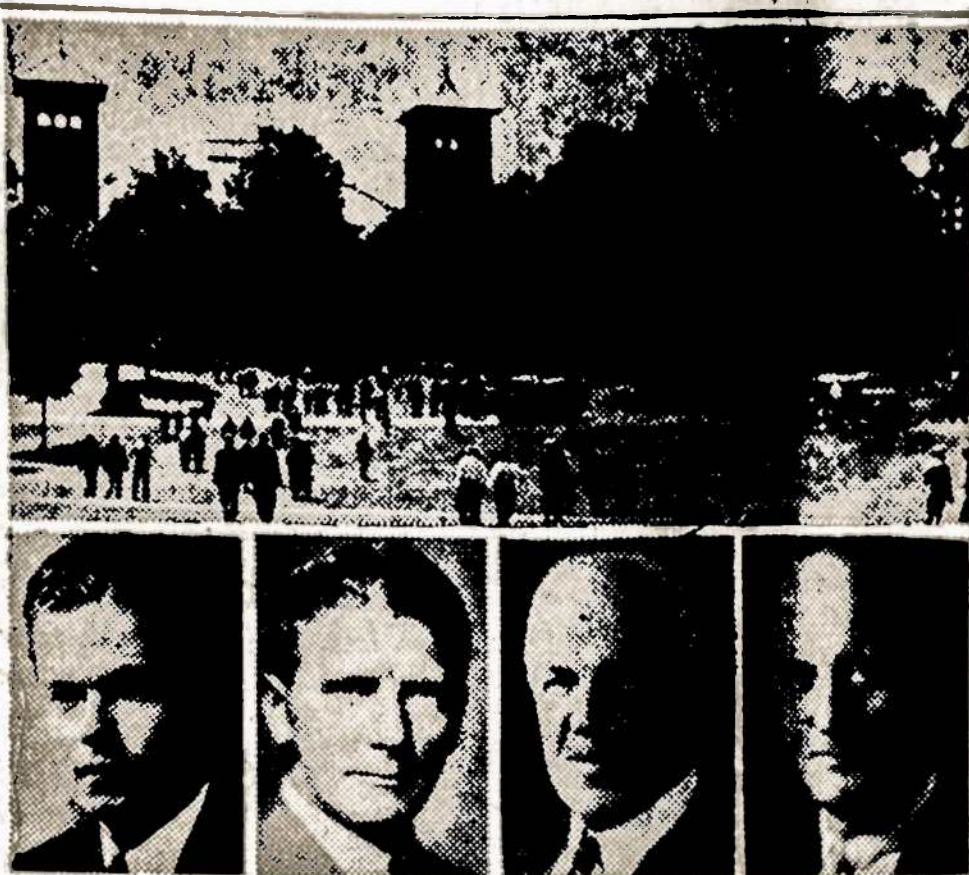

FIRST NORTHFIELD GENERAL CONFERENCE SINCE 1941 SCHEDULED FOR AUGUST 1-11

Founded by D. L. Moody in 1830,
Annual Meetings Lapsed
Because of War

East Northfield, Mass. — The Northfield General Conference, pioneer religious summer convale of the type prevalent today, will resume on August 1 the annual sessions which were interrupted in 1942 by the war. The meetings were started 67 years ago by D. L. Moody and have long been a sounding board for outstanding Protestant leaders from Great Britain, as well as for United States churchmen.

This year's conference, which will continue until August 11, will feature such speakers as Dr. Adam W. Burnet of St. Outhbert's Church, Edinburgh, Scotland; Dr. Paul D. Moody, son of Northfield's founder; Prof. Reinhold Niebuhr of Union Theological Seminary; Dr. Stanley High, roving editor of the Reader's Digest, and others.

President William E. Park of The Northfield Schools will be chairman of the conference and the meetings will be held on the campus of Northfield School for Girls.

General Conference

The Northfield General Conference will convene on the campus of the Northfield School for Girls on Saturday for the first time since 1941. Advance registrations and the large summer colony forecast attendance at the conference sessions which should break all records for at least ten years. The list of eminent speakers selected by the conference committee of which Dr. William E. Park, president of the Northfield schools, is chairman, is probably responsible for a large degree of the enthusiasm with which the revival of the historical gathering has been greeted. These speakers include religious leaders who were popular at previous conferences and also several well-known churchmen who are new to the Northfield platform.

The speakers at the Sunday services at 11 A. M. in the Auditorium will be as follows: Sunday, August 3, Dr. Robert R. Wicks, formerly dean of the chapel at Princeton University, who will assume the same post at Hamilton College this fall, and on Sunday, August 10, Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr, a member of the Union Theological Seminary faculty since 1928. The speaker at the 9.30 A. M. ministers' meeting in Russel Sage Chapel each day from Monday, August 4, to Saturday, August 9, will be Dr. Russell L. Dicks, chaplain of the Wesley Memorial Hospital in Chicago and a member of the faculties of the McCormick and Chicago Theological Seminaries and of the Garrett Biblical Institute. The leader of the round top services, which will also be held Monday through Saturday, will be Dr. Carl H. Kopf, minister since 1933 of the Mount Vernon Church of Boston which D. L. Moody joined as a young man in 1856. Dr. Kopf has recently accepted a call to an important pastorate in Washington, D. C.

The following are the speakers at the 11 A. M. and 8 P. M. Auditorium services and the meetings at which they will speak. Dr. Adam Burnet, minister of St. Outhbert's Church in Edinburgh and a popular speaker at eight previous General Conferences, Tuesday and Friday morning; Monday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings. Dr. Stanley High, well-known author, traveler and roving editor of the Reader's Digest, Friday evening and Saturday morning. Dr. Paul A. Wolfe, minister of the Brick Church in New York since 1938, Monday and Wednesday mornings and Tuesday evening. Dr. John W. Woodside, minister of the Chalmers United Church of Ottawa and a former moderator of the United Church in Canada, Thursday morning and Saturday evening.

Dr. Sidney Lovett, chaplain of Yale University, will serve as conference chaplain, and Dr. Paul D. Moody, son of the founder, will appear on the platform at least one day during the conference.

Music will be furnished by a group of Northfield and Mount Hermon students under the direction of Mr. Albert R. Raymond, director of choral music of the schools, and the organist and accompanist will be Carlton W. L'Hommiedieu, head of the Mount Hermon music department.

For the first time in the history of the conference a registration fee will be charged in order to allow both those living on the campus and others attending the service a chance to participate in the expense of running the conference. A registration clerk will be in the lobby at each of the week-day Auditorium services both morning and evening to collect the fee and attractive buttons will be issued to those registering.

The Northfield General Conference, which was founded by D. L. Moody in the same period in which Northfield and Mount Hermon, has always held an important place in the religious life in the United States, indeed, the world. It has been truly said that most of the important English speaking Protestant churchmen of this period have at one time or another spoken from its platform. The large registration and the excellent list of speakers speaks well for the continuation of this tradition.

West Coast Greetings

From Miss Harriet Richards, now a resident at Mount Vernon, Washington, comes a word of greeting to all friends here through the "Press." Miss Richards, formerly of this town, had been a secretary to the late Ambert G. Moody when he was active in the affairs of the Northfield schools. Upon retirement she moved to the West Coast to make her home with relatives and has not visited here since. However, she keeps in touch with Northfield friends and her former interests and through the paper is able to grasp the many varied changes which have taken place in Northfield and its community life. She expresses the hope that this town will retain its old-time atmosphere and remain a typical New England town with its shaded ems, its fine old homes and its towering church spires, all of which the traveler from the west appreciates when visiting en tour.

Garden Club Picnic

The Northfield Garden Club will hold its regular meeting and picnic supper on the lawn at the home of Mrs. Martin E. Vorce on South Main Street Monday evening, August 4, at 6 o'clock. At the business session the detailed plans of the forthcoming flower show will be considered and arrangements made by the general committee announced.

The Church Fair

Everybody is invited to attend the fair of the Congregational Church on Friday, August 8. Mrs. David Hammond, general chairman, says there will be plenty to interest all. Supper will be at 6 o'clock. The proceeds will go toward the new church building fund.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Cooney and family, of Meriden, Conn., are occupying the cottage of Miss Dorothy Doremus on Rustic Ridge for the month of August.

Boost the Home Show

An important coming event is the Flower Show of the Northfield Garden Club at the chateau of the Northfield Hotel on Tuesday and Wednesday, August 19 and 20. The time is rapidly approaching and if a success of the event is to be assured it must have the cooperation of all lovers of flowers, whether members of the Garden Club or not. There must be a large and attractive display and every effort must be exerted whether local gardens are in bloom or not. It is expected that the publicity will soon be realized and that the committee will announce their completed plans. The special features division promises a most alluring display but all are invited to make a showing as provided for in the schedule already announced in the "Press" and here again repeated.

Section A—Arrangements:

Class 1—Arrangements of flowers in identical containers. Class 2—Arrangements of flowers in tones of yellow. Class 3—Arrangement of flowers and accessories in a horizontal picture frame with or without mirror background. Class 4—Arrangement of flowers floating in shallow container.

Class 5—Arrangement of white flowers in a white container with one-color accent. Class 6—Arrangement of flowers in a pair of vases. Class 7—Arrangement of flowers in a hanging wall vase. Class 8—Arrangement of flowers in a metal container. Class 9—Any arrangement of flowers in a miniature bouquet. Container not over 3 inches in height, and entire arrangement not over 5 inches. Class 11—Arrangement of flowers with gifts for a child.

Section B—Blooms:

Class 12—Three blooms or stalks of any variety. Class 13—Single rose in bottle. Class 14—Single dahlia in bottle. Class 15—Single zinnia in bottle.

Section C—Potted Plants:

Class 16—Flowering plants. Class 17—Foliage plants. Class 18—Ferns. Class 19—Rare or unusual plants.

Section D: Flowers as I like them.

Section E: Branches or sprays bearing fruit or seed pods, wild or cultivated.

Section F: Natural bit of woodland in a tray.

Section G: Something new, or a recent introduction.

Section H: Best display of vegetables.

Section I: Men's Class. Arrangement of red and (or) yellow flowers.

Section J: Boys' and Girls' Class. Bouquets of wild or cultivated flowers.

Section K: Competitive arrangements in baskets from neighboring clubs.

Section L: Competitive displays of different local organizations.

Section M: Professional exhibits.

Section N: Semi-professional exhibits.

Section O: 4-H Club exhibits: Class 20—Flowers. Class 21—Vegetables.

Valuation Boosts

The general dissatisfaction that seems prevalent over the increase in tax rates in Northfield and other communities prompts the feeling that the voters will consider seriously every appropriation at the next annual town meeting. Surely no new undertakings will be voted. In the eastern part of the state there are rumblings of displeasure and at a meeting of assessors, State Commissioner Long suggested that home assessments might be raised at least 30 per cent and that properties sold at high values should be assessed accordingly. Properties assessed at $1,000 or $1,500 and sold for prices in the neighborhood of $5,000 must carry a much higher assessment.

Speaker Willis of the State Legislature takes issue with Commissioner Long and feels much careful consideration must be given as present values may be false values. Northfield assessors will face a hard task in their next assessment but known sales and owner determined values will aid fixing values for taxation. Our assessors will do the best they can to equalize and be fair in their conclusions.

Mrs. Allen H. Wright has returned from a pleasant motor trip with a friend along the Maine coast.

Raymond-Brassor

The marriage of Miss Marion Brassor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brassor, of West Northfield, and Claude Raymond, of Frenchville, Me., took place in St. Mary's Church in Turners Falls on Saturday morning, July 26, with Rev. John Curtin officiating.

The matron of honor was Miss Martha Venckus and the best man was Rosaire Raymond, brother of the bridegroom. Mrs. Brassor gave his daughter in marriage. Gladioli were the decorations. The bride wore a white marquisette gown with train, finger-tip veil and orange blossoms. She carried red roses. The maid of honor wore a pink chiffon dress and carried yellow roses.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Stephen Lygiak, in Turners Falls, after which the couple departed on a wedding trip to New York. They will make their home in Frenchville.

The Sunday School of the Vernon Union Church and the Sunday School of the South Vernon Church will hold a picnic jointly on Friday, August 8. Time and place will be announced later.

Selectmen's Conclave

A three-day convention for Massachusetts selectmen was held at Amherst last week end. It was the annual meeting of the State Selectmen's Association and about 160 selectmen were in attendance. Besides many conferences, the delivery of addresses, the discussion of important matters, the gathering took on the form of a picnic and found relaxation in the social events scheduled. It proved to be an outing of three happy days when selectmen proved that they can be joyous as well as serious. It is said that Northfield's three selectmen returned with happy faces, determined to give the town the best administration possible and to practice such economies as will help to reduce the tax rate another year.

Miss Therese Simar, of New York city, has as her guest at her summer home on Woodruff Way, Miss Violet Murray, of New York, an intimate friend.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Carr and family who left for California in their new car after a stay at his father's home here, arrived in Los Angeles where they will remain until residence is established.

New Books Added

Mrs. Florence Phelps, librarian of Dickinson Memorial Library, announces the addition of the following new books to the shelves and ready for circulation:

"Mrs. Mike," Freeman; "Mountain Time," by DeVoto; "Black Stage," Gilbert; "Whereabouts Unknown," Reynolds; "Aurora Dawn," Wouk; "Purslane," by Harris; "There Was a Time," Caldwell; "Gentleman's Agreement," by Hobson; "Dr. Norton's Wife," Walker; "Timber in Lace," Ruck; "Letter Box," Wentworth; "Flint," Norris; "Candle in the Morning," Miller; "Valley of Vanishing Men," Brand; "Head Wounds," Bassett; "Shadow Range," Bishop; "It's a Woman's World," Arrows; "Valley of Wild Horses," Grey; "Man of Man," by Costain.

Non-fiction: "Why They Behave Like Russians," by Fisher; "American Literature," ed. by Blankenship; "So Sorry, No Peace," by Gurnison; "Enrico Caruso," by Key; "Information, Please," ed. by Egan; "Inside U. S. A.," by Gurnison; "Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam," ed. by Untermeyer; "Opportunities in Journalism," by Sugerman; "Opportunities in Radio," by Hanson & Pack; "World Almanac for 1947," "God's Children," by Rutledge; "Winter Harbor," by Richmond; "Land Below the Wind," by Keith; "70 Miles from a Lemon," by Yates; "I Married a Russian," by Street; "Harps in the Wind," by Brink; "Failure of a Mission," by Henderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Meyer, of Manchester, N. H., were last week-end guests of his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Harry L. Meyer, of Mountain Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Bolton, of West Northfield, are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Henry Glogg, of Rutland, Vt., at their home.

Friends are extending much sympathy to Mrs. Carroll Rikert, of Mt. Hermon, who a few days ago underwent an operation at the Palmer Memorial Hospital in Boston and where she will remain for an indefinite period. She is showing an improvement.

At Palmer Institute

Rev. E. W. Blackstone, pastor of the Advent Christian Church in South Vernon, went last Friday to the Palmer camp grounds maintained by the churches of his denomination in the district to attend a young people's institute and where he will act as chaplain as a teacher. Six young people from the church accompanied him as delegates. Mr. Blackstone will be away over two Sundays and his pulpit will be filled by guest preachers.

Town Topics

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart H. Manning and family, of New London, Conn., have rented "Adah," the summer home of Miss Ellnor Peck, and are now occupying for August, located on the Ridge.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Leoman Stowell, of Northfield Farms, at the Franklin County Hospital on Friday, July 25, grandson to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stowell, of this town, and to Mrs. Henrietta Heselt, of Drewsville, N. H.

Getting around to more and more families
in rural New England

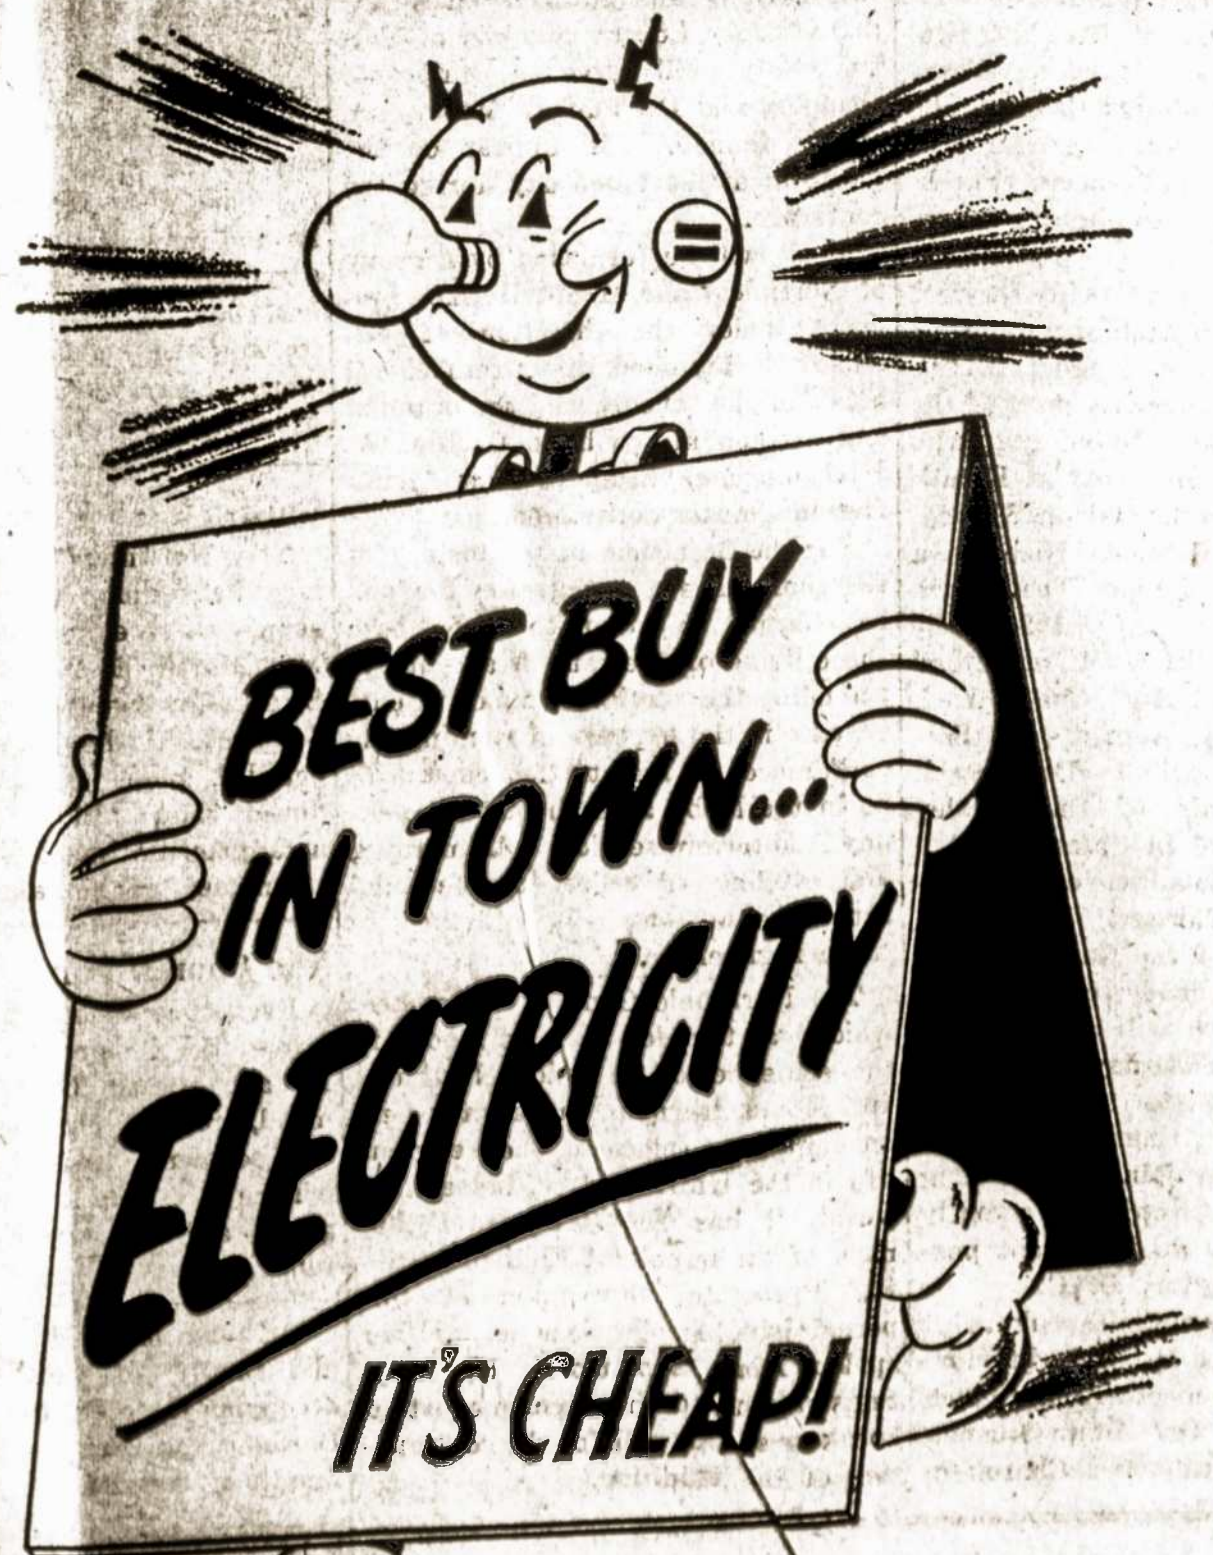

Just as fast as we possibly can, we're bringing telephone service to more and more homes in rural New England. We've been installing over 1000 telephones a month in rural areas . . . and we're speeding up this program as more new equipment becomes available.

To accomplish this, we're doing a lot of building and construction work. We're altering and adding to equipment in scores of central offices. We put up over 2000 poles, and added 980 circuit miles of wire in the first three months of this year and we're continuing these jobs.

As more work is completed, we'll begin to reduce the number of people on party lines and improve service quality in other ways.

We know how much the telephone means to people in rural areas — and we're sparing no effort to bring them more and better service than ever before.

Pass Through Here

Arrangements have been completed for the parade of old automobiles for the 1947 Glidden tour which will start at Hartford, Conn., on Thursday, September 28, and tour to the White Mountains. Forty years ago the first tour was made and some thirty-three gasoline and steam cars participated. The Veteran Motor Car Club of America is sponsoring the trip this year and an announcement to the "Press" states that the cars will pass through Northfield enroute to Bretton Woods. Our citizens will be given the privilege of seeing many old cars in the procession. Later the day and time will be published as to when they will reach Northfield.

The small house on Ashuelot Hill in Winchester which has been advertised in the "Press" the past two weeks has been sold. The house was well situated with a fine view and ideal for summer occupancy.

Louis M. Davis will celebrate his 79th birthday this week and is visiting in Springfield with his son and family.

Stanley Johnson is in Cushing Memorial Hospital in Framingham for treatment of an injury to his arm. He is getting along nicely, according to reports.

Rev. Dr. J. L. Peacock and Rev. and Mrs. Gordon Poole and family are at their cottage on Cliff Road, Rustic Ridge.

They Attend Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. George Carr drove to Foxboro last week end to attend the wedding of her brother, Russell Cook, to Miss Rachel Cutting, of that town. Rev. W. Worster, minister of the Congregational Church of Foxboro, officiated at the double ring ceremony which was held at the home of the bride. The sister of the bride attended as maid of honor and the brother of the groom served as best man. After the reception the couple left for a two weeks' motor trip through Maine.

Mrs. Carr's mother, who is 86 years old, returned to Northfield with the Carrs for a two week's visit at their home.

Rev. W. H. DesJardins, of Newark, N. J., has arrived to spend the summer with his family at their cottage on Rustic Ridge.

Rev. Dr. Arthur L. Berger, of Syracuse, N. Y., and president of the Rustic Ridge Association, arrived here Tuesday to join his wife at their cottage on Pine Street, Rustic Ridge.

Lightning Strikes

In the midst of a very heavy down-pour of rain on Monday afternoon lightning struck the gable of Hillside cottage of the Northfield schools on Winchester Road, passed down the roof and entered the ground through a tree nearby. No serious damage resulted but the fire department was called out to investigate the smoke of charred wood.

Town Topics

The Seattle (Wash.) Times, under date of July 20 published an article describing the visit to that city of the group of hostlers who left Northfield June 24 for the homeward journey to the West Coast via railroad. There were 24 in the party led by Bill Adcock, of Boston. The article was illustrated by photos and very interesting in describing the enthusiasm of the members. They left for Vancouver for their next stop.

Miss Sophie Napierkowski, of Ashuelot, N. H., who is bookkeeper in the office of Spencer Brothers, is enjoying her annual vacation.

Howard Spaulding, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Spaulding, of Winchester Road, and who is attending the Northrup Aero School at Hawthorne, Cal., is spending a month with his parents here.

James W. Burke, secretary at the University of Massachusetts in Amherst, has been named as director of the New England region for the National University Extension Service. He resides in North Amherst.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Barbara May Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Henry Johnson, of South Vernon, to Donald H. Barrett, of Hinsdale, N. H. The wedding will take place September 14.

Rev. Herbert J. Gabriel, district superintendent of the Free Methodist Church, was the preacher last Sunday morning at the services of the local church, of which Rev. Helen Bassett is pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Jack, of Highland Ave., visited the camps at Fairlee, Vt., and at Jaffrey, N. H., last week end where their son and daughter are spending the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Duncan and family, of Port Washington, N. Y., have arrived at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Duncan, on Rustic Ridge, to spend a short vacation.

Paul Williams, son of Mrs. Fred S. Merrifield, and formerly of Northfield, with his wife and two children recently called on friends in Seattle. During the past year Mr. Williams has been an exchange teacher from Brookline, Mass., to the Queen Anne High School of Seattle. At present he and his family are touring along the Pacific Coast for their vacation. They plan to go to British Columbia and will spend another year in the West.
